Judge Hugh McFarland of the juvenile court will do what he can to place the boy in some home. He has not found anyone so far who wants such a boy and who will take care of him. At the Iris.

Edith Wynne Mathison, at the Iris today and tomorrow, in "The Governor's Lady," is one of the most thoroughly and typically American dramas ever produced by Mr. Belasco, and the picturization is therefore especially interesting and true to life from our own point of view. It concerns the experiences of a woman who is married to a poor mine worker. This young man, filled with ambition in spite of his poverty, discovers a gold mine, and then, armed with wealth, reaches out with eager hands for power and all the good things of life. The wife finds it difficult to follow his footsteps or adapt herself to such radically altered conditions. On the other hand, to him she seems unresponsible and unappreciative of the advantages that have come to them. At the Iris. life. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or any-thing else you can use for sham-pooing, as this can't possibly in-jures the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abun-nace of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rhises out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and casy to manage.

You can get mulsifled cocoanut You can get mustified coconnut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.

FAMINE IN WHEAT

Government Sends Out a Warning to the Country

That Exports Threaten to Exhaust Supply in America.

Washington, March 22.—Warning that the present heavy exports to European nations of American wheat and flour cannot be continued without endangering the wheat supplies for food and seeding requirements at home was contained today in the department of agriculture's outlook. In the opinion of the department experts, exportation at the same rate as during December, January and February until the coming of the new wheat crop, would encroach upon normal domestic needs.

Investigation has disclosed there was on March 1 an apparent surplus of 91,000,000 bushels of wheat over domestic requirements for food and seed that was available for export in the four months from March 1 to July 1. Washington, March 22.-Warning

July 1.
While the exports of wheat, includ-While the exports of wheat, including flour, during those four months last year were 36,000,000 bushels, it is pointed out that those exports during December, January and February last averaged almost 35,000,000 bushels per month and if that rate of export continued until the nw crop is available, it would amount to $140,000,000 bushels.

The department's investigation did not include inquiries into stocks of

The department's investigation did not include inquiries into stocks of flour, but the opinion is expressed that they do not show so much reduction as wheat stocks. A factor in the situation indicated by the department is that the southern states have greatly increased their wheat acreage, the crop of which will be marketable before July 1 and will have the effect of increasing the available supplies between now and that date.
